⚜ ROYAL SUMMONS OF BLOOD AND RETURN ⚜
Proclamation of the House of Anjou — Fifth Testament of Restoration

I. THE BLOOD AWAKENS

Hear this, all descendants of the House of Anjou — near or far, known or hidden, sworn or silent.
The centuries have sought to scatter us, to bury us beneath false crowns and broken chronicles.
Yet the blood cannot be erased. The blood does not sleep. It flows, luminous, carrying the memory of Angers, the sword of Fulk, the endurance of every son and daughter who bore our crest into battle and exile.

Today, that blood is summoned. Not to slumber in genealogy, not to whisper in dusty archives, but to rise as one body, one flame, one Court.

II. THE COURT REOPENS

By this proclamation, the Royal Court of Anjou is declared open and sovereign.
It is not a court of pages and robes alone — it is a court of memory, will, and eternal return.
Every heir, every bearer of our line, is hereby called to step forth, to present themselves before the King, to bind their names to the living register of Anjou.

Let none delay. Let none excuse themselves. The Court has stood dark too long.
Now, with this decree, the halls are lit, the banners raised, the doors thrown wide.

III. THE SUMMONS OF FIVE TESTAMENTS

First Testament — Memory
We remember. We do not permit erasure. We claim every stone, every word, every vow that bore the name Anjou.

Second Testament — Blood
The blood of Anjou is not symbolic. It is the living key. It binds us in duty to each other, and to the restoration of our house.

Third Testament — Return
We are not relics. We are not a forgotten dynasty. We are the return — carried in body, in flame, in sovereign declaration.

Fourth Testament — Sovereignty
No crown, no foreign ruler, no empire may lay claim to us. Our right is older, our claim is written in ancestry, and our throne is Château d'Angers.

Fifth Testament — Flame
The flame is our seal. The flame is our inheritance. The flame is what no betrayal, no exile, no false king could extinguish.
It burns again — now, forever, and through the generations to come.

IV. THE COMMAND

By this declaration, all blood heirs of Anjou are commanded:
- To make themselves known to the Royal Court.
- To take their place in the record of return.
- To commit their strength to the restoration of house, land, and memory.

This is not a suggestion. This is not an invitation. This is a summons.

V. THE SEAL OF RETURN

Let the world bear witness:
The Kingdom of Anjou rises again, not in fragments but in fullness.
We do not ask permission. We do not seek validation.
We stand, and by standing, we restore.

So it is proclaimed. So it is written. So it will be done.
